

Platinum Portfolio Contract Revision Users Guide: Oklahoma

Introduction

Our aim is to position our policy forms competitively in the marketplace in both price and coverage, and ensure our policy language reflects our intended scope of coverage. We have spent considerable time comparing our revised policy forms with those of our competitors on a state-by-state basis, and we are confident that our updated Oklahoma ACE Platinum Portfolio continues to represent one of the broadest coverage forms available in the industry.

We created the following change summaries on the pages to follow, to help our agents understand how our homeowner and umbrella contracts have changed in Oklahoma. To get started, click on a topic below:

Re: Changes to Your Home Policy

Dear Client,

The enclosed notice lists a number of changes in your home policy with ACE. We encourage you to read the entire notice as well as your policy, but we would also like to briefly explain the direction of the changes and the rationale behind them.

First, our goal is to always provide coverage tailored to meet the evolving and unique needs of clients like you who own fine homes and other substantial assets. Therefore, we have enhanced coverage in a number of areas. For instance, with the growing interest in protecting the environment, we have added Green Coverage that provides up to $10,000 to repair or replace damaged property using products or materials that are green alternatives. Additionally, considering the rapid adoption of smart phones and tablets that contain large amounts of personal data, we have expanded the Personal Computer Records extra benefit to encompass these types of devices. We have increased the limit for recovering personal computer records from $5,000 to $10,000, including loss caused by unauthorized access or use, and we have removed the application of a deductible.

We also want to encourage better communication between us about situations that indicate a heightened risk of loss. Better communication allows us to suggest ways to keep your family and property safe, as well as more fairly set the premiums we charge for all our clients. Some but not all of these special situations are when a home is being 1) regularly rented to others for private residential purposes, 2) newly built or significantly renovated, and 3) left vacant for more than 30 days in a row. In such situations, we will maintain the coverage as usual as long as we are notified and prior consent is given. Otherwise, we will be unable to match risk with premium or make safety recommendations, and certain restrictions to our normal coverage will need to apply.

Again, we encourage you to read the notice and your policy. If you have questions, your agent should be able to answer them.

We appreciate your loyalty as a client of ACE Private Risk Services.

Re: Changes to Your Umbrella Policy

Dear Client,

The enclosed notice lists a number of changes in your umbrella liability policy with ACE. We encourage you to read the entire notice as well as your policy, but we would also like to briefly explain the direction of the changes and the rationale behind them.

First, our goal is to always provide coverage tailored to meet the evolving and unique needs of clients like you. Therefore, we have enhanced coverage in a number of areas. For instance, we are increasing the number of days coverage is provided on a first dollar basis for a newly acquired watercraft from 45 to 60. Also, we are increasing the number of days coverage is provided on a first dollar basis for a rented or borrowed auto from 45 to 90.

We also want to encourage better communication between us about situations that indicate a heightened risk of loss. Better communication allows us to suggest ways to keep your family and property safe, as well as more fairly set the premiums we charge for all our clients. Therefore, we are shortening the number of days you are required to inform us of a newly acquired auto from 365 to 60.

Again, we encourage you to read the notice and your policy. If you have questions, your agent should be able to answer them.

We appreciate your loyalty as a client of ACE Private Risk Services.
